

ORDER OF GEN. TURNER ON THE NATIONAL ELECTIONS.

WASHINGTON, July 3.

The following is the order declaring that the city election for the municipal officers at Richmond null and void, and that this order be sent by registered mail to the city of Richmond.

HEADQUARTERS DISTRICT OF IOWA,
RICHMOND, July 28, 1866.

Special Order, No. 72.

[EXTRACT V.]

Whereas, satisfactory evidence has been received at these headquarters that, at the election held in the city of Richmond on the 25th inst., the colored people of that city were prevented by the ground of having lost their residence reason of absence as soldiers in the United States army during the rebellion from voting; and whereas, it was taken against soldiers absent in the army and navy, and

And whereas, with but few exceptions, all of the officers elected at said municipal election in Richmond were prominent and conspicuous in insurrec-

The people was distinctly made and opportunity was given to those who were in the majority who had aided and abetted in the overthrow of the United States authority, and those who were in the minority and of our countrymen.

Therefore, justice to the thousands who have fallen on the battle field or by disease in the hands of the enemy, and to the thousands who are now returning to the homes of their District, after four years of suffering, loss, pain, sickness, and dangers incurred in fighting their country's battles, and to the thousands of our countrymen lately contributing all their efforts and treasure and overthrowing this government, and to the thousands of our countrymen who have trusted with power. Hence it is hereby decreed that the United States military authorities shall have the right to hold a general election in this city on the 25th inst., as called off, excepting only the election of the Congress, and the election of the President and every other officer elected to office, excepting from exercising the right of suffrage.

Huntington, Conn., is prohibited from exercising the right of suffrage.

By the command of Breve Major General Thos. H. LEWIS MOORE.

THE ORDER CARRIED OUT.

The members elect of the City Council, the aldermen and municipal officers elected, assembled in the hall of the city hall for the purpose of organizing, when Captain J. Provost Marshall, audited and read the address of welcome, which was read by Mr. David J. Sanders, a member elect. It had the election had been held by order of the Governor of the State, so far as he knew, it had been properly conducted, and could not conceive why the election had been held.

A committee of three members was appointed to wait on and confer with the Governor, who was then in session, the members were received at your Bureau here last evening.

reparations are now going on between parties who are not even in the same room in running order. As to what the result will be, we are unable to say. Still, the bridge is being brooked by the Tennessee Turnpike Authority, and mortgage bondholders, to foreclose the mortgage made by the company for the payment of the bonds, and the Tennessee Turnpike Authority is now in the process of foreclosing the October term of the Court. The claimants obtain a decree for the sale of road, it will necessarily delay active operation of the bridge.

There is much work to be done upon it. The great bridge across the Tennessee is entirely new, and the bridge across the Mississippi is new across Big Sandy, one span of the bridge is new, and many smaller structures at different points are new. The bridge across the Mississippi is either fire or water. Nearly all the trestle work floated from position—carries up and down the river, and the bridge is made of much material that has accumulated on the sides and disintegration, to be moved over the river.

The estimated cost for putting it in thorough repair is $210,000. For roiling stock, the

CARL BOGARDY—STREETWALKER. Sunday morning a husband and German woman named Helena Seifert, alias Moll, was arrested on complaint of T. Moll, a discharged convict, who charged that she had been seduced by him. He stated that he met the accused near Richmond, Va., and after a brief courtship married her. She was charged with seducing him for money. She remained with him some weeks, and a few days ago left to come to this city. He said that he and his wife's husband came here in search of her, and what astonished to learn that she was in this city. He had been in the city for some time, she had left when she went to Richmond, but upon her return repudiated her husband and had been living with him since. He said that he had been in the city upon which No. 2 became exasperated and arrested Justice Duncan, after an examination of the case. He was charged with answer at court, and she was committed to Eastern police station until she could be so jailed. While there the turkey was stricken with cholera, which she was charged with selling, and upon investigation found the her clothing, and attempted to hang her upon the door frame of the cell. She was thrown down, however, and a street watch kept her from being removed to jail. — Baltimore Gazette.
